Bank Statement & Consent

To assess your loan application in line with Australian lending requirements, we may need to review your recent bank statements.

In most cases, this includes the last 90 days, however depending on your application, we may request up to 180 days or 12 months of statements.

For your convenience, this can be completed securely via our trusted partner, bankstatements.com.au, using the link provided at the end of your application.

About Illion (Secure Bank Connection)

bankstatements.com.au uses Illion, a leading Australian data provider, to securely access and generate your bank statements.

During this process:

- You will log in directly to your bank through a secure portal
- Your statements will be automatically retrieved and shared with us
- Your banking login details are never stored or visible to us

This process is widely used across Australia by major lenders and financial institutions.

Why we use bank statement access:

- Faster and more accurate loan assessment
- Eliminates the need to upload statements manually
- Used and trusted by leading Australian lenders
- Fully compliant with Australian privacy and financial regulations
- Protected with 256-bit bank-level encryption

> By proceeding, you consent to securely share your bank statement data for the purpose of assessing your loan application.
